In 2016, the loan/deposit ratio in the banking system continued to decrease to minimum historical levels, this trend reflecting the liquidity surplus in the domestic economy and confirming the structural changes in the banking sector.

The prudential ratios ensure a favorable position of BT in the banking system. BT has a consistent deposit base, which allowed for an optimum liquidity ratio. Deferred tax receivables increased up to RON 374 million as at December 2016, compared to RON 111 million as at December 2015. The increase is mainly due to the fact that the bank recognized in 2016 the deferred tax receivables related to the bargaining gain resulting from the acquisition of Volksbank Romania, in line with all legal requirements in force.

Operating income amounted to RON 2,823.39 million as at 31.12.2016, being 2% higher than in the previous year. The Bank exceeded the budgeted level by 3%.

The decrease was due to the expenses generated by the integration of Volksbank Romania. At the level of BT Group, the evolution of operating expenses was mainly influenced by the expenses of the Bank. The costs related to the acquisition of Volksbank Romania, which impacted the previous year's expenses, comprise mainly the intermediation fees, advisory fees, legal fees, evaluation fees and other general administrative costs.

The gross profit of 2016 is RON 999.12 million, as compared to RON 2,265.13 million (of which bargaining gain from the acquisition of Volksbank Romania in amount of RON 1,650.60 million) in the previous year.

1.1.8. Assessment of the bank's activity regarding risk management

Description of the bank's policies and objectives regarding risk management

RISK MANAGEMENT

The objective of Banca Transilvania Financial Group in terms of risk management is the integration of the assumed average risk appetite within the bank's decision making process, by promoting the adequate balance between the assumed risks, the available capital and the performance targets, considering at the same time the tolerance to financial and non-financial risks. In determining the appetite and tolerance to risk, the Group takes into account all significant risks to which it is exposed given the specificity of its activity, a major influence being linked to the credit risk.

Risk management is part of all the decision-making and business processes in Banca Transilvania, and in this respect the bank's management:

-Continuously assesses the risks which affect or are likely to affect the bank's business and goals and takes actions whenever any changes appear in its business conditions;

-Ensures the existence of an adequate activity management framework within the bank, considering both internal factors (the complexity of the organizational structure, the nature of the activity, staff quality and fluctuation) and external factors (macroeconomic factors, legislation changes, competition changes in the banking sector, technological progress),

The risk management framework includes internal regulations, limits and controls that ensure the identification, assessment, monitoring, mitigation and reporting of the risks arising from the bank's activity overall and, where applicable, at the level of business lines.

- Risk identification: The Bank's exposure to business-related risks in its daily operations and transactions (including lending, dealing, and capital market operations) is identified and aggregated in the bank's risk management infrastructure.

- Risk evaluation/measurement: The bank performs an evaluation of identified risks by specific models and calculation methods: a system of ratios with related limits, a methodology for assessing the risk events likely to generate losses, calculation methodology for specific credit risk provisions, assumptions regarding the future evolution of assets' value, etc.

- Risk monitoring and control: The policy and the procedures implemented for an effective risk management are meant to mitigate risks inherent in the bank's business. The bank implemented procedures for the supervision and approval of decision and trading limits per person/ unit/ product etc. Such limits are monitored daily/ weekly/ monthly depending on operations.

- Risk reporting: For the specific risk categories, the bank has established transparent regular reporting mechanisms, so that the management body and all the relevant units are provided with precise, concise, intelligible and significant reports in due time, and are able to exchange relevant information on risk identification, quantification or assessment and monitoring.

- Calculation and assessment of capital and capital requirements: For the assessment of capital adequacy to risks, the Bank identifies and evaluates all significant risks to which it is or might be exposed. Banca Transilvania continuously calculates and assesses its internal capital and internal capital requirements, in order to cover the bank's business needs and related risks.

Categories of risk to which the bank is exposed: Credit risk, Liquidity risk, Operational risk, Market risk, Interest rate risk outside the trading book, Reputational risk, Risk of excessive leverage, Strategic risk, Compliance risk.

CREDIT RISK

The credit risk management framework is periodically updated and improved. It is designed to cover all credit exposures deriving from the banking business and includes the following basic components:

- Lending methodology to ensure a healthy credit portfolio;

- Integrated IT systems for the management of client relationships and loan origination, both for companies and individuals.

- Individual counterparty rating system;

- Risk assessment system for transactions;

- Risk assessment system for new credit products / significant changes in the existing products;

- Active management of loan portfolio;

- Concentration limits per client / group of clients / products / regions /sectors/ guarantee suppliers / guarantee types;

- Pricing methodology based on risks;

- Methodology for loan monitoring / review after granting;

- Methodology for credit risk provisioning;

- Methodology for the calculation of prudential adjustments;

- Methodology for the early identification of effective or potential credit risk increase (early warning);

- Methodology for the identification and management of high risk assets;

- Proactive management of fraud risk;

- Continuous improvement of the overdue credit collection process;

- Back-testing methodology for provisions allocated to the bank's loan portfolio regarding the adequacy of the probability of default indicator, the default status and the provision level;

The management of credit risk consists mainly in:

- The organization of a proper system of norms and procedures in this field, establishing the regulatory framework for the lending process in order to avoid or to minimize risk occurrence; - development / improvement of credit risk management procedures (strategy, policies, norms related to credit risk management); ongoing improvement of the credit approval / granting process;

- The maintenance of an adequate process for credit management, control and monitoring;

- Organizational structure of the bank – there are departments and committees with responsibilities in credit risk supervision and management.

The credit risk appetite determined a priori for 2016 was "medium".

LIQUIDITY RISK

The liquidity risk appetite in 2016 was "medium-low" due to the structural correlations of the bank's assets and liabilities, namely the mix of instruments designed for the use of temporary liquidity excess, but also due to the weight of stable resources raised from clients in total funds; the liquidity risk profile is determined in a conscious manner and in line with the international and domestic market conditions, but also by considering the bank's sound development under the current legal circumstances, with the purpose to achieve both prudential and profitability requirements. Liquidity management is centralized.

The main principle in determining the types of instruments used by the Treasury in order to use temporary liquidity excess is investment portfolio diversification (over 5 types/categories), considering the reversed correlation between the risk degree and the liquidity level, establishing minimum and/or maximum accepted levels for the relevant categories of investments, granting special attention to liquid assets easily convertible into cash that are eligible for collateral, without materially affecting the initial yield of investments, notably their profitability.

For a sound management of liquidity risk, the bank is constantly focused on raising liquidities via treasury operations, external financing, capital markets, etc., by taking into account various factors such as the issuer's rating, the issuance maturity and volume, trading markets.

The operative management of liquidity occurs also on an intraday basis, so as to ensure the execution of all settlements / payments of the bank carried out in its own name or on behalf of its customers, in LEI or FCY, on accounts or in cash, within the internal, legal and mandatory limits.

Moreover, the Bank also applies a liquidity buffer for the purpose to cover the additional liquidity needs that may occur on a short period of time under stress conditions.

During 2016, the Bank recorded 1st rating liquidity ratios, indicating a more than comfortable liquidity position in a still fragile general economic context.

- Attention is given to:
- correlation of the growth rate of resources/loans;
- diversification of the range of instruments correlated with the institution's risk appetite;
- adequate capital allocation;

OPERATIONAL RISK

Operational risk represents the risk to incur losses from defective processes, errors generated by the internal systems, inadequate employee activities and other external events.

In order to identify, assess, monitor and mitigate operational risk, the bank:

-assesses on an ongoing basis the exposure to operational risk, based on historical data

-assesses the products, processes and systems in order to determine their associated risk levels and the measures required for the removal / diminishment of such risks to acceptable levels

In order to mitigate the inherent risks arising from the bank's operating activities, it is necessary to continuously monitor the controls implemented at different levels, to assess their efficiency, and to implement adequate measures for the reduction of the impact of operational risk events.

Banca Transilvania's Strategy for the diminishment of operational risk exposures is based mainly on the permanent update of regulatory documentation in line with the legal regulations and market conditions, staff training, efficiency of internal control systems (organization and exercise), constant improvement of IT solutions and consolidation of the bank's security systems, the use of additional means to reduce risks (insurance policies against risks), application of measures to limit and to mitigate the effects of operational risk incidents, such as: current activity standardization, automation of processes to the largest possible extent, with control keys monitored on a permanent basis; reduction of redundant data collected by the bank's related entities; evaluation of products, processes and systems in order to determine sensitivities to operational risk, implementation of the recommendations and the conclusions resulting from the controls carried out by internal and external bodies, the update, evaluation and testing of business continuity plans on a regular basis.

The operational risk assessment is closely related to the bank's overall risk management process: its results are part of the operational risk monitoring and control process and are constantly compared with the risk profile defined in the bank's risk management strategy.

MARKET RISK

Banca Transilvania's market risk appetite was "medium-low" due to the structure and the size of the trading portfolio, the prudential approach of all operations subject to such a risk and the numerous limits implemented and daily monitored within the bank's current business. In order to reduce market risk, the bank adopted a prudential approach to protect its profits from fluctuations in prices, interest rates and exchange rates on the market, which represent exogenous, external, independent factors. The Bank implements a series of principles in terms of quality, maturity, diversity and risk degree of the constitutive elements.

Banca Transilvania performs a daily evaluation of all banking positions, marking to market its trading book, of the positions at the directly available closing prices, coming from independent sources, such as: prices on the stock exchange, electronic quotations, quotations from several independent, well-known brokers, in accordance with the applicable internal regulations and monitors the "warning" or "alert" levels, using backup plans in case of unstable market conditions.

The market risk analysis is based on the three main risk sub-categories below, with the purpose of combining prudential and profitability requirements:

Interest rate and price risk: the management of such risk is adapted and permanently adjusted to the Romanian and international financial and banking market conditions, as well as to the overall economic context. The interest rate risk is analyzed within the stress tests performed for the portfolio of securities held by the Bank and the price risk is analyzed within the stress tests related to the share and fund unit portfolio held by the Bank.

FX risk: the Bank applies a series of rules with regard to operations sensitive to exchange rate fluctuations, the realization, registration and mark-to-market thereof, as well as the impact of exchange rates on the bank's assets, liabilities and balance sheet.

Settlement risk: represents a possible loss that could occur because of a wrong settlement of the treasury operations; the purpose of this risk management type is to adopt a prudent policy regarding the selection of counter-parties, custodians, the management of counter-party operations and the maturities of the related operations

INTEREST RATE RISK OUTSIDE THE TRADING BOOK

The interest rate risk profile in activities outside BT's trading book is "low", the bank adopting a set of strict principles for the management and monitoring of such risk, establishing a risk management process capable of keeping interest rates within prudential limits. The interest rate risk management is to minimize the possible negative impact on net income, as well as to preserve the economic value of the equity under the conditions of adverse fluctuations of the interest rates.

The bank uses management tools such as GAP analysis, static or dynamic and the economic value of assets, forecasts regarding the interest rate trends, the interest types and levels of the bank's products, depending on currency and maturity, the volumes of different balance-sheet items sensitive to interest rates, fees and commissions, directly or indirectly influenced by interest rate changes, limits recommended in the interest rate gap management.

REPUTATION RISK

Reputation risk is the risk to incur losses or to fail in achieving estimated profits due to the lack of public confidence in the integrity of the bank. The reputation risk appetite has been established as "low" by maintaining the confidence of the public and the business partners in the bank's integrity, economic and financial position. The management of the reputation risk is performed by way of: undertakings in order to attract the best partners, both clients and suppliers; recruitment and retention of best employees; minimizing litigations; strict regulations; prevention of crisis situations; and the consolidation of the bank's credibility and the shareholders' confidence; ongoing improvement of the relationship with shareholders; establishing a more favorable environment for investments and access to capital; continuous and open communication with stakeholders (shareholders, mass-media, clients, partners, employees, authorities, etc.).

STRATEGIC RISK

Strategic risk is the current or future risk for profits and capital to be negatively affected by changes in the business environment, by unfavorable business decisions, improper implementation of decisions or the low adaptability to changes in the business environment. The strategic risk appetite has been established as "low" based on the following aspects: risk management practices are an a part of BT's strategic planning, the exposure to strategic risk reflects strategic goals that are not excessively "aggressive" and are compatible with the developed business strategies, the business initiatives are well designed and supported by communication channels, operating systems and adequate delivery networks.

COMPLIANCE RISK

In accordance with the requirements of NBR's Regulation no. 5/2013 on prudential requirements for credit institutions, Banca Transilvania ensures the ongoing development of the compliance activity, thus providing a permanent and efficient compliance risk management framework.

In this respect, the compliance function, as an integral part of the bank's control functions, has provided the management body with consultancy on the implementation of the legal and regulatory framework and on the standards that the bank had to meet; thanks to the involvement and support of this function, the possible impact of any legal and regulatory changes on the bank's activities has been assessed on an ongoing basis.

The main tools for an efficient management of compliance risk are: establishment of exposure limits and elaboration of ratios that reflect the bank's processes exposed to compliance risk; (2) investment in state-of-the art software solutions; (3) raising employees' awareness through training on the events that fall under the category of compliance risk and means to mitigate such risk; (4) regular internal and external auditing of the compliance function, thus ensuring control over the implementation of the legal requirements.

The relevant ratios for the management of the requirements of the compliance function refer to KYC and AML / terrorist financing, as well international sanctions.

Through a consistent approach strategy for compliance risk management, the process has been extended to the level of the BT Group.

The compliance objectives for the forthcoming period focus on the implementation of certain European legal requirements on capital, monetary and FX markets and in the field of payments, data protection and AML and terrorist financing.

CAPITAL ADEQUACY

The internal process for the assessment of capital adequacy to risks is integrated in the administration and management process of Banca Transilvania and in its decision making culture, according to which the management body must ensure the proper identification, measurement, aggregation and monitoring of risks, the preservation of internal capital levels adjusted to the bank's risk profile, as well as the use and development of sound risk management systems.

The Bank and the Group use the following calculation methods for the determination of capital requirements:

Credit risk: risk-weighted assets are calculated based on the standard method;

Market risk: capital requirements with respect to the exchange risk and the trading portfolio are calculated based on the standard method;

Operational risk: capital requirements for the coverage of operational risk are calculated according to the base method.

The Group manages its capital base in a dynamic manner, by monitoring regulatory capital ratios, by anticipating the adequate adjustments required for the achievement of its objectives, as well as by optimizing the structure of assets and shareholders' equity.

Planning and monitoring take into consideration the total own funds (core tier 1, additional tier 1 and tier 2) on the one hand and risk-weighted assets (RWA) on the other hand.

INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL AUDIT

The general objectives of the 2016 audit focused mainly on risk management, as well as on the assessment of the overall control system implemented on transactions and / or processes / flows, covering the entire range of risks. The control system assessment was carried out in line with the internal audit methodology, one of the main objectives being that of ensuring the reliability and integrity of financial and operational data, as a result of an independent and objective evaluation of the internal control system and of the risk management systems in connection with the financial reporting process.

The internal control framework of the Bank is structured on three levels, respectively the functions that are exposed to and manage risks (operational units), the functions of risk supervision (the risk management function and compliance function) and the function that provides an independent assessment, respectively the internal audit function.

Thus, the 1st control level is linked to the operational units, which are responsible for ensuring an appropriate risk control and prevention environment within each operational structure/activity, as part of their daily operations; the 2nd and 3rd control levels are associated with the three independent control functions, as follows:

-the risk management function ensures the management and control of identified risks by means of specific assessment processes;

-the compliance function ensures the management of compliance / operational / credit risks;

-the internal audit function ensures the objective examination of the Bank's overall activities, for the purpose of an independent evaluation of risk management, of the internal control system, of the management and execution processes, in order to support the achievement of objectives; it also issues recommendations for the improvement of such activities.
